SINCE
1. Personnel in the Support Directorate that serve overseas are normally under the jurisdiction of the ~~Glendestine Service~~ Deputy Directorate for Personnel. Therefore, it will be their responsibility to identify those areas which would fall under the category of hazardous duty and at the same time propose the minimum period of service.

2. Should you have need for any further information, please call who will be the coordinator on this subject.

Robert S. Wattles

MEMORANDUM FOR: Executive Director-Comptroller
Deputy Director for Intelligence
Deputy Director for Plans
Deputy Director for Science and Technology
Deputy Director for Support

SUBJECT : Qualifying Areas for Certificates of Exceptional
Service and Establishment of Eligibility Periods

25X1 1. [] Honor, Merit and Service Awards, provides in paragraph c(2) that "the Director of Personnel, after coordination with other interested components, will seek the Director's determination whether the conditions in a particular area warrant such recognition of an individual's service. The Director's determination will cover the inclusive dates of such conditions and the minimum period of service which qualifies an individual for the Certificate." Before the above revision was issued, the minimum period of service was 90 days or the period of crisis if less than ninety days. All Certificates issued to date have utilized this criteria.

2. It is now necessary to review each qualifying hazardous area and to determine the minimum period of service required for each area. Accordingly, please review the attached listing and for those areas under your jurisdiction, propose a minimum period of service. Also, please add any areas that you view as qualifying through 31 December 1971.

3. It is requested that all responses be returned to me no later than 21 January 1972 and, in addition, I suggest you appoint an officer to act as coordinator whom we may contact to resolve any variations contained in the responses.
